

First-time Snow

Your First Snow Starts Here

Late-Nov snow play - rare in  JAPAN.

Before most ski areas are open, 8 Peaks at 1,500 m lets you enjoy your very first snow — a rare treat in Japan. With full snowmaking and crisp alpine air, a dedicated snow-play zone on part of the slope lets you touch real snow, try sledding with the kids, and laugh through friendly snowball fights. No skis required — just warm gloves and a sense of fun. It's an easy 4D3N side trip from Tokyo and a perfect way for families to begin their Japan holiday.

Snow play takes place in a dedicated area on part of the slope; schedule may vary with weather.

8 Peaks Resort High-Alpine, 3 hours from TOKYO

An alliance of ski areas & hotels — your travel concierge.

If you're travelling to Japan between late November and late December, add a Side Trip to 8 Peaks Resort—a high-elevation escape within easy reach of Tokyo. After your first snow-play experience, explore around the resort: visit Suwa Taisha Grand Shrine and Matsumoto Castle, then savour premium unagi. Tell us your preferences and we'll customise the itinerary for you.
